The series is based on the Discovery Channel series, Street Fighter, and showcases a season-long tournament to crown an Ink Master Champion. The contestant who scores the highest points after each round will move on to the next round. Those who win are tattooed and receive tattoos in the same style as the tattoo they placed last. The contestant who tattoos the tattoo with the most details is then eliminated, with the chance to return if they don't win the competition. The series premiered on July 29, 2007. The series is hosted by Jason Mewes (of Jay & Silent Bob fame), as well as fellow reality-star and tattoo artist Tod Locsin, alongside tattoo artist and art director Tycho, and a tattoo critic by the name of Adam Heyworth. The winner of the competition is tattoo artist Joel Warner. As of July 22, 2008, the show has aired four seasons and currently airs at 8 p.m. on Mondays. Records Scoring The minimum score of 5 is obtained by getting a single round for a tattoo on the show. The score for a tattoo must be at least one (1) during the first round, 2 during the second round and 3 during the final round, although some contestants do not tattoo in all three rounds. It is possible to get one round for two, three or even four tattoos but it is extremely rare. In Season 2 the winner of the first season, Cody Conway, received no rounds for four tattoos. In Season 1, all contestants scored no rounds for their tattoos. In Season 2, several contestants scored one round for four tattoos.

First person to tattoo a tattoo that scores a perfect 5 is $100,000. The total prize money from the competition for both seasons is $500,000. List of winners See also Tattoo
